A day or two since Colonel Farrow again visited the jail and upon seeing Mr. Berrong became convinced that he had lost his mind. This caused him to have Dr. Ridley, the jail physician, examine Mr. Berrong. The examination resulted in a verdict of insanity, and now Colonel Farrow is making an effort to secure the unfortunate man's release.

Mr. Berrong is about sixty years old, and is the father of seventeen children, who are now living in Towns county. He is the man who was once represented as the "king of the moonshiners."

THE DISCIPLES GATHERED IN CONSULTATION HERE

There was a fair attendance yesterday morning at Hunter street church, of visitors and delegates to the first state convention of the Churches of Christ in Georgia.

The convention was called to order by Elder N. W. Smith, president. After singing, Blessed be the tie that binds, Elder A. G. Thomas read the 12th chapter, 27th to 31st verses, and 13th chapter of First Conjuthing. The richner will be supported by the conjuthing. to 31st verses, and 13st enapter of First Corinthians. The richness, fullness, beauty and emphasis of this passage was brought out very strikingly by the eloquent reader. Prayer was made by Elder Z. T. Paul in the text tells them:
1. Be perfect. We can only be absolutely perfect in Christ. We are not sinless. Divine pardon alone can cleanse us of all sin. God forgives fully or not at all.
2 Be of good comfort. Be cheerful. Realize that vod is your Father and Heaven your home. Be of cheerful mind, but not given to levity.
3 Be of one mind; one in faith; one in practice; one in obedience.
4 Live in peace. Peace is good in a nation; is good in man. Christ is the prince of peace.
Result: The God of love and peace shall be with you.
The convention reassembled at 2:30 p.m. The election for officers resulted as follows: President, J. S. Lamar, Augusta; vice-president, Dr. R. Y. Rodgers. Sanders-ville; secretary, James Atkins, Savannah; treasurer, R. E. Mims, Savannah. Executive committee: Z. T. Sweeny, W. S. Fears, N. W. Smith, D. W. Elder, H. C. Dodson, T. M. Foster, Dr. W. S. Elder T. M. Harris, state evangelist, owing to severe domestic affliction, was not present. His report was read, giving the result of his labors for the year.

aging. Elder F. M. Green, of Ohio, secretary of Eider F. M., Green, of Ohio, secretary of the general missionary convection, having arrived was introduced to the convention, and addressed them in a stirring and pointed speech. He congratulated the convention upon holding this meeting as a move in the right direction. Ohio had 45,000 Disciples, and their contributions for missions the past year was $46,000, over $1 per capita. This could not have been done without the stimulating influence of a convention. the stimulating influence of a convention. There are 591,000 Disciples in the United States. Counting the floating membership (those who are baptised and never get out of the water) pot connected with the church organization there are over 650,000, $113,000 was contributed for missionary purposes last year. Georgia stands so the third highest contributing state although she has only about 9,000 Disciples.

At night Elder J. S. Lamar preached to a fine congregation from Ephesians, 5th chapter, 25th verse. "Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave Himself for it."

His theme was Christ's love for the church, and had be abailed it with that massive ability and strength of logic characteristic of the speaker. A synopsis would doinjustice to the preacher and the subject.

The convention will meet at 9 s m. this morning The following is the programme:

Friday. 9 a m.—Devotional, J. A. Perdue. Evangelization, general discussion, with such settion as may be agreed to by the convention. Training your, preachers.

reaction to Atlanta. He appreciated the occasion because of the privilege of metaling with and greeting so many brethren. His joy and gratitude however was not unmixed with pain and regret as he reflected that the familiar faces of many str.ng men and earnest workers in the cause who were with us in the past were absent to-day. The presence of so many good and intelligent men, showing that they were on the Lord's side, was cheering. We have passed through a period of excitement when men willingly and lavishly spent time and talent and treasure in advocacy of the cause they deemed important. But the cause in which we are engaged is as far superior and higher as heaven is above the earth. For the church in Atlanta I bid you a hearty welcome, and trust you will appreciate your presence in our midst. Assuring you of our earnest and hearty coperation, and of our sympathies and prayers I extend to you a hearty Christian welcome.

Elder N. W. Smith, president of the convention, responded in behalf of the body, accepting the welcome cordially, and expressing the hope that when the convention adjourned the church in Atlanta would have no cause to regret the meeting In alluding to the veterans who had gone to their reward, the emotions of the speaker overcame him, and his tears were more eloquent than words. Eider T. M. Foster was made secretary pro tem.

Eider A. G. Thomas expressed his rejoicing at the meeting. The ministers met a year ago and resolved to organize a convention of the churches, subject to the action of the churches, subject to that action. He submitted a programme as a guide for the convention, and it was adopted.

The churches were called and the following delegates enrolled:

The church of the past, was of more in terest perhaps to us, than that of the future. The condition of the church at Corinth at the time Paul wrote to them would afford encouragement to us. There are practises in the church now that we do not approve. We know that they are not up to the divine model. Let us consider several points suggested by Paul concerning the church at Corinth.

There is no Louisians returning beard in this state, and it would be dangerous and futile for un-crupulous politicians to attempt a repetition here of the Garcelon fusion swindle in Maine. Garfield's Policy.

Garfield's Policy.

Boston Hersid, ind.

The southern question is not likely to give General Garfield much trouble. Indeed, we do not see that hereafter there will be any southern question that I- not also a northern question. The republican organs and orators have never bear able to tell what they expected General Garfield would do in relation to the south more or less than President Hayes has done, or than General Hancock would have done. And now The Atlanta Constitutions, an intelligent and influential organ of southern opinion, says that "the south expected fittle more from General Hancock's administration than it will ask from General Garfield's. We want nothing more than simple, exact absolute justice. If the new president owes nothing to the south, he at least owes something to the country, and we shall be glad to see him cancet this debt by giving us an administraing to the country, and we shall be glad to see m cancel this debt by giving us an administra-nas fair, as just and as clean as that of Mr. ayes." Good. That is all the north asks. There ems to be nothing in the way of a truly national dicy for the new administration.

Washington Special to the Baltimore Hereld. Washington Special to the Baltimore Heerld,
It is rumored here to-day that the democratic leaders of the south will hold a meeting at Richmond shortly to consider the advisability of instructing all the democratic presidential electors of the south to cast their electoral votes for Garfield and make his election unanimous. Several leading southern men stopping here express themselves as thoroughly disgusted with the northern democracy, and say that the south now has it in her power to break up the party whose northern managers have so often betrayed them, Wade Hampton is said to be of this opinion, and strongly in favor of making Garfield's election unan incus.

They cost but a trifle. See another column.—Christian Recorder,

The sarcophagus of Roger of Tuscany, bishop of Lausanne, who was buried in the cathedral of that city in 1220, was recently opened, and the body was found almost intact. THE NIPPERS

Yesterday there was a special session of a grand jury of Fulton county for the purpose of considering the charges against the three parties recently arrested upon the complaint of W. G. Mosely, who charges them with robbery, and after a short session true bills were returned against each of the three and the cases called in the superior court for trial, but upon petition of General Gartrell and Colonel Hulsey,

Wilson she said, "You are the man who robbed me of three hundred dollars."

He tated that he had an accomplice tut whom he refuses to give away. The result companied Captain Connolly to the jailyes terday, and as soon as she laid her eyes on Wilson she said, "You are the man who robbed me of three hundred dollars."

Wilson's reply was: "Madam, you are mistaken. I am a cripple—see," and he dip a lame hand.

Mrs. Burkes is positive that Wilson is the man who mipped her pocket-book at the car-shed, and as she saw the man at the time she cught to know. And again this looks like Wilson might be guilty.

A Mr. Watkins, who resides at Roswell, and who was robbed at the fair grounds, saw the man who got his pocket-book, as also did his daughter, and from the description he gave the police, it was thought that Wilson is the man. They have been telegraphed for by Caprain Connolly and will reach town this morning in time to be at the trial.

On Wednesday when the train from Chattanoga arrived at the car shed, the sleeping car conductor notified some of the railroad officials that five men who held tickets from Cincinnati to Montgomery had been pointed out to him when they boarded the train as pickpockets. The tickets which thy held were numbered 28, 29, 120, 121 and 122, and these are the tame nen as far as exputred.

Captain Connolly, who has been working the case, says that Wilson is the celebrated three fingered Jack who has been so success from the sheriff in Nashville, who had him in charge.

Mr. Mosely is still in Atlanta awaiting the trial, and expresses himself as well pleased with the result.

The trials will be called to-day. Colonel S. B. Spencer will assist the solicitor in the prosceution and Colonel Hulsey and General Gartrell will defend the prisoners.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.

Sermon by Bishop Beckwith in the Capitol Last Night.

"Mr. Knapp, why was not your fire company at the brewery the other night?"

The temperance sermon spoken by Bishop to Beck with in representative hall last night was listened to most attentively by a very large assembly of ladies and gentlemen Many members of the legislature were present. The bishop is easy, imposing and dignified in delivery, has a voice of marvelous scope, perfectly trained to the expression of all the fine shades of thought and feeling, at da presence which is so manly and commanding that it inspires an audience with admiration before he opens his mouth. He read much of his matter from a manucript before him, and of course this detracted somewhat from the effectiveness of the address. The bishop said that he had prepared this sermon foraid ordinary coasion, and hoped there fore, that the people would not set their hearts upon an extraordinary effort. We make a lew of the salient points. Intemperance was a great vice. This point was elaborately demonstrated, and the many bad effects of this terrible curse were pained in a terse and graphic style which thrilled his heerers. Intemperance would eat up a man's body, shatter his nervous system murder his self respect, poison the happiness of home, and in many instances it had caused individuals miss takenly styled men to brutally beat their wives and their children. It led to misery in the worst forms. It marched through the land at the head of the column of the worst vices. Its tanner-beteris were Want and Despair. Its tanner-beteris were Want and Desp would destroy the brightest intellect that God ever made.

There are two great classes of persons to be considered: those who are already dissipated—adults; those who may become social the drunkards; but our power to reclaim the drunkards; but our greatest duty is to keep our children from becoming drunkards. He believed that temperance societies did a vast deal of good. They are noble institutions and should be encouraged but they could be mide more effective if made a part of the work of Christiar's in the churches. He did not mean that the various denominations should resolve themselves into temperance associations, but that the members of every church should supplement their Christian labors with temperance work. the bare anouncement that Mr. James Starp's drug store on Marietta street had been entered and his safe burglarized of one hundred and sixty-seven dollars. On account of the lateness of the hour nothing else could be learned, but on yesterday a Constitution reporter ascertained the following additional facts:

About two o'clock Wednesday morning, ss Mr. Sharp was raturning to his room in the rear of his store, he found the back door open and his safe door likewise, and subsequent examination showed that about $200 was missing.

Dazed a little by his loss, he set about finding out something concerning it, and true bills were returned against each of the three and the cases called in the superior court for trial, but upon petition of General Gartrell and Colonel Hulsey, counsel for the defense, a continuance was granted until to-day when the cases will again be called.

Since the arrest and confinement of the trio quite a chain of circumstantial evidence has developed which will aid materially in the conviction of the parties.

Dr. Love, of Atlanta, who was robbed during the fair, has seen Wilson, the three fingered man, and says that he is the party who robbed him. In addition to this he says that the gold sleeve button which was found in Wilson's possession when arrested is his property, and that it was in his pocket book when stolen from him. This looks as though Wilson might be guilty.

Mrs. C. A. Burkes who was also robbed of three hundred dollars during the fair accompanied Captain Connolly to the jail yesterday, and as soon as she laid her eyes on Wilson she said, "You are the man who where the return of the superior court for the subred man who he refuses to give away. OUR VISITORS.

How the Circinnati Board of Public Works Spent the Day Yesterday.
Yesterday morning about ten o'clock seven carriages were driven up in front of the Kimball house, and soon thereafter
Mayor Calhoun, City Engineer Clayton and Alderman Beerman, accompanied by the board of public works of Cincinnati, came out and getting in started out on a 'our of inspection.

rist the visitors were driven out Peach First the visitors were driven out Peachtree street to the city limits, and then to the rolling mill. On their return to town the party stopped at the cutton factory and made a thorough inspection of that building, which they pronounced a success. They were then driven out Whitehall street and to the barracks, which was infested by the party, and returned by Peters street, after which the cemetery and other places of interest were visited.

The party expressed themselves as highly pleased with Atlanta, and regretted that their s'ay could not be longer. They left at three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

To be Tried To-Day. Mrs Humphreys, charged with assault with intent to murder, will be arraigned before Judge Tanner for trial to-day.

Mrs. Humphreys is the Peters street lady who struck the United States soldier with an axe some days ago.

The trial will attract some attention as several parties are interested therein.

GATE CITY GUARD NOTES.

-Another big move is being arranged for omideration.

—Mrs. J. T. Eichberg, of the military booth, made the largest returns.

—The unsold articles left over from the fair are at the armory, 74 Peachtree street, and are being disposed of at private sale.

—The influished reflies of the Gate City Guard fair will be completed next week, and the fortunate numbers announced in the papers.

The trial of Richard Reed, charged with hog stealing, was again called in Justice Rhea's court yesterday, and the hearing of the evidence concluded, after which the case was argued at length by the attorneys and then submitted to the court. The testimony so far makes a pretty strong case against the defendant whose statement was not as clear as might have been.

The court reserved its decision until this morning when Richard will know his doom.
